DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. Claims 9-27, 30-52, 54-60, and 64 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lupien et al 5,101,353. Lupien shows a process for displaying quotes on a trader screen in an automated system that includes a plurality of traders with some having bilateral credit with one another (those being trading counterparties; claim 30) displaying a quote by a first trader and providing indication of the quote being accepted by more than one but less than all of the counterparties (fig. 2) as a percentage compared to the total number that is above 25%, since 78% is shown in figure 2 (col. 8, lines 1-18; claims 14-16, 20, 25-27, 41-42, 45, and 49-51). Lupien shows (fig 2 & col. 8, lines 10-18) that the first trader's trading counterparties can accept the first traders' quote if it is the best available (claims 10, 19, 21, 34, 38, 46 and 56) if it is the best price available (claims 11, 22, 35, 39, 47 and 57-60) or equal in price to another quote that is first in time relative to another quote (claims 12, 23, 32, 36, 40, 44 and 48). Lupien shows the traders having bilateral credit with one another that is determined in real time in order to remain a trading counter party (abstract; claims 13, 24). Lupien shows the determination of the number of trading counterparties, determining a percentage who can accept the quote and providing the indication to the first trader when the percentage is greater than or equal to a predetermined percentage and determining the number of counterparties who can accept the quote and comparing that number to the total number where the trading floor contain one or more individuals and the trading floor grants credit to the other trading floor "auto-traders" 72/76 (claims 17, 43, and 54) and the traders are individuals 38 (claims 18, 31, 55, and 64).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. Claims 28, 29, and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lupien et al 5,101,353 in view of Nevo et al 5,946,666. Lupien does not display the percentage of those with bilateral credit; however, Nevo is a similar process for displaying quotes on a trader screen in an automated system where the percentage of yields are displayed as a visual performance factor. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Lupien, as taught by Nevo, to display the percentages of possible traders historically thus in a graphical format, to improving the visual information from which a trader can make an informed yet decisive decision to trade or not.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 61-63 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 07/13/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments are noted; however, in order for a trading order to be completed there must be a counterparty, therefore the percentage of orders that are able to be confirmed also reflects the percentage of trading counterparties for this particular entity. Furthermore, this issue of the "percentage of counterparties" is not persuasive relative to claims 9-13, 17-19, 34-40, 43, 44, and 59-64 and since these claims do not include this element/function.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
